WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING MACHINES.

The Best, Most Reliable Sewing Machine Now in Use!

These Machines make the lock-stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do. It will stitch, Hem, Fell, Quilt, Tuck, Plait, Gather, Cord, Braid, etc., all without previous basting; and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family; or they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect; or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, without changing the feed needle or tension, or making any adjustment of machine whatever!

It has the following advantages over all other machines:

Far greater variety of work; beauty and excellence of stitch; speed and quietness of motion; simplicity of construction; ease and management; elegance of design and finish.

These are peculiar facts, and will go far to determine the choice of an intelligent buyer.

U. S. 7.30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from August 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of 7 3-10ths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of this Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities, or in notes or bonds payable in government money.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interested, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discounts.

Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond.

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten Per cent., per annum, free from state or municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special Act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to loaders as those issued by the government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith of ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

Duplicate certificates will be issued for all deposits. The party depositing must endorse upon the original certificate the denomination of notes required, and whether they are to be issued in blank or payable to order. When so endorsed it must be left with the officer receiving the deposit, to be forwarded to the Treasury Department.

Subscriptions will be received by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

First National Bank of Pittsburgh,
Third National Bank of Pittsburgh,
AND BY ALL NATIONAL BANKS

which are depositaries of Public money, and all

RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS

More Confirmation of the Gunboat Story.

From the Detroit Advertiser and Tribune.

We give below a letter from Dr. O. J. Bissell, late Surgeon of the U. S. steamer Jacob Bell, and a copy of a portion of his journal. The letter is addressed to one of the most prominent and respected citizens of this State who knows the writer well, and vouches for his truth and respectability. More than this, the writer of the letter made the same statements to other gentleman of high character in this State and elsewhere, very soon after the occurrence of the events to which it refers. Read the transcript from his journal carefully, and then say, if you can, that Fernando Wood is wrong in saying that "intelligent and honest peace men do not concur in the opinion of that McClellan will continue the war if elected."

GRAND RAPIDS, Oct. 3, 1864.

DEAR SIR: Agreeable to your request I have made a copy of my journal of June 30, 1862, which I send to you some days since. I cannot consent to let the original which you desired to pass from any possession, although any person can have the privilege of seeing it by calling on me. All the material facts I wrote to my wife at the time, but the letter was handed to different persons, and now it cannot be found, although those who read it recollect the facts.

I also in October, 1862, gave the leading facts to Gen. Garfield and Secretary Chase, and several others. I will make affidavit to the facts and statements made in the journal and the log-book of the Jacob Bell contains the evidence of all the facts. I am, sir, your most obed't servant,

O. J. BISSELL,
Late Surgeon of U. S. S. Jacob Bell.

Extract from the journal referred to in the foregoing letter.

JUNE 30, 1862.

Soon after our arrival at City Point we learn that Gen. McClellan, with his army, had arrived at Turkey Bend, and we got under way and stood up the river, arriving at Turkey Bend about noon. The north bank of the river was lined with soldiers washing and bathing or filling their canteens. In the distance was heard the thunder of cannon.

Lieut. McCrea inquired of some of the soldiers where Gen. McClellan was, and was informed that his [illegible] mile distant. McCrea came [illegible] his gig and went on shore. In about an hour the coxswain returned and told the steward the Captain wanted him to send a dozen bottles of Whisky.—The whisky was given the coxswain in a basket. At about 8 p. m. the firing became very brisk, and soon McCrea hailed the United States steamship Galena, a boat was sent, and the Captain, with Gen. McClellan, the Prince de Joinville, Prince de Paris (Count), Duke de Chartres, and an officer who I understood was chief of Artillery (he was not in uniform), came on board the Galena. The United States steamship Jacob Bell at the time was turning the Galena's bow up stream, as we were about starting up the river to shell the Charles City road.

The Galena Jacob Bell and, Aroostook stood up the river to a point from which we could reach that road with our shell. The Galena occupied the center of the stream, with the Jacob Bell lapping up her stern. All our guns were brought to bear upon the road, a signal officer being on the lookout of the Galena, giving and receiving signal from the shore, in order to give the proper direction to our guns. Gen. McClellan was on the "lookout" a short time. At about 4 p. m. the fire in that direction began to slacken and the vessels stood down to the point from which we started, the old ferry. Before we got under way, Gen. McClellan, with the Princes, came on board the Jacob Bell.

After an introduction of the General and staff to the officers of the Jacob Bell present, McClellan said, "My army is demoralized, and I shall be compelled to surrender or capitulate this afternoon or to-night, and I must have a gunboat to take the Princes to Fortress Monroe immediately"—that it would not be safe to send them on a transport. McCrea replied that Capt Rogers said he could not spare a gunboat. The General and Princes insisted on a gunboat. Much conversation took place between the General and the Princes and McCrea, myself being present, and a part of the time a correspondent of The New York Times, as I afterward learned. McClellan and the Princes agreed that the Federal cause, as they called it, had failed, and the government would have to acknowledge the Southern Confederacy.

The result, if the Princes should be taken prisoners, owing to their European relations, was also discussed, and finally it was agreed to make another effort to induce Capt. Rogers to send a gunboat with the Princes to Fortress Monroe. This was the more earnestly insisted on, as they all agreed that the surrender of the flotilla would certainly follow the surrender of the army, and General McClellan said the authorities at Washington would be [illegible] for that result. At this [illegible] p. m. a letter was [illegible] McClellan, which he said [illegible] Chief of Staff, and [illegible] its contents. The [illegible] is retained at our Army [illegible] remarked, "He wishes me to come to the front."

After reading the letter the General and the rest of the people on the quarter deck left. The General, Prince Joinville and McCrea went aft the deck and conversed some minutes, and then returned, and the General left, after bidding the Prince farewell, for the army. The Jacob Bell then got under weigh and stood down to City Point to order up some of the transports, and then returned to Turkey Bend.

After our return, Prince de Joinville requested McCrea to go and parade Rogers to send a gunboat to carry them to Fortress Monroe. The Captain went, and soon returned and said Capt. Rogers had ordered a gunboat to go, and that he was going with his vessel. The Prince de Joinville said to him, That will interfere with your arrangements with Gen. McClellan. How is that, said the Captain? You know, said the Prince, you was to keep your vessel here and a boat on shore, so that the General could go on board if he should be attacked in the night. McCrea said he had arranged with another vessel to lie here.

About this time McCrea learned that there was a correspondent on board, and asked me if it was so. I told him a man came on board about the time the General did. I did not, however, know his business. He said if there was any on board he must leave immediately, as he would have no correspondent on board his vessel.

We got under way after the Princes' baggage could be brought on board, and had a pleasant trip to "Old Point," where we arrived at 8 o'clock p. m. July 1, and the captain had the honor of the correspondence of The New York Times as a passenger in his gig from the vessel to the wharf.

There were some things connected with this day's events which surprised me very much. There seemed, from the conversation of Gen. McClellan and the Princes, an apparent design to surrender the army on the pretext of an unsuccessful campaign, throwing, however, the responsibility upon the authorities at Washington. I may be mistaken in this, but I could not otherwise interpret their conversation, especially as their remarks about surrendering the army were coupled with the acknowledgment of the Southern Confederacy, and the responsibility of the authorities at Washington.

Whisky. The whisky bottle was passed three times while they occupied the hurricane deck, each time General McClellan, the Princes and McCrea drinking. This struck me the more forcibly, as I had understood the General was strictly a temperance man.

The effect of the whisky was quite manifest, on the tall slender Prince (Count), as he required material aid, in the shape of a man at each side, to pass from the hurricane to the quarter deck; and after a little time, being unable to keep his position in his chair, McCrea proposed that he occupy his bed in the cabin, which he did by the assistance of McCrea and one of the Princes.

Elect "Little Mac" and Then—

Aye! elect Little Mac and then look out for the opening of the Sixth seal. For then you may expect the assumption of the rebel war debt, $2,000,000,000, making, with our own, nearly $4,000,000,000.

Elect Little Mac, for then you may may expect to pay the rebels for spoliations, losses, confiscations, as much more, making your national debt $6,000,000,000.

Elect Little Mac, for then you will never receive a dollar from England for the spoliations on your commerce committed by rebel privateers, fitted out in British ports and manned with British crews—a nice little sum of $50,000,000.

Elect Little Mac, and compromise your troubles by paying pensions to wounded rebel soldiers for fighting your own brethren, thousands of whom have been even denied burial by these rebels

Elect Little Mac and have Lee, Beauregard, Bragg, etc., come back into the service which they have left in dishonor, and pay them from your Treasury the same salaries that you pay to the patriot Generals of the Union armies.

Elect Little Mac and abandon to the tender mercies of the slave oligarchs the Union families of the South who have aided our cause, and the Union men who have fought under our flag.

Elect Little Mac and have your national currency superseded by legalized bank trash, and add $5,000,000 to your debt to achieve the feat.

Elect Little Mac and welcome Davis, Stephens, Toombs, Foote, Mason, Slidell, etc., back to the Cabinet and the Senate, to crack their slave whips again around the ears of freemen.

Elect Little Mac and abandon the cause of freedom forever.—Phil. Nor. American.

Two boys were reading the McClellan placard:

"What's G. B. for? What's his name?" said one.

"GunBoat M'Clellan," was the reply.

"What do they call him Gun Boat McClellan for?"

"Because he was 8 hours on board of one at the Malvern Hill fight, and don't remember anything about it."

(See M'Clellan's testimony before the Committee on the War.)

A Plain Statement of Facts.

FACT 1. The Democracy North, and the rebel Democracy South, were co-operating together as members of the same political party prior to the rebellion.

2. The present wicked rebellion was fully inaugurated by the Democracy of the South, with the knowledge and consent of the Democracy North, while the united Democracy were in power in the nation.

3. Every State which seceded from the Union was under the leadership and control of a professedly Democratic Administration.

4. While the Democracy South assert their right and determination to overthrow the National Government, the Democracy North stood by and aided them, by avowing the doctrines of state rights and anti coercion.

5. Under the plea that the National Government had no power to coerce the States by the enforcement of national laws, the Democracy North abandoned the Union to the keeping of traitors in open rebellion, while they held every department of the National Government, and could have wielded the power of the nation for its defense.

6. The rebels South boasted of having the sympathy and co-operation of the Democracy North, who, so far as they expressed themselves as a party, sympathized with the rebellion, and refused to cease their party strife until the rebellion should be suppressed.

7. In general the leaders of the Democracy North, who have been recognized by the Democracy, have distinguished themselves for their disloyalty to the Union and sympathy with the rebellion.

8. Every disloyal man at the North was either a member of the Democratic party, or became such immediately on becoming disloyal.

9. Those members of the old Democratic party North, who have sustained the Government in its efforts to suppress the rebellion, and whose sympathy and prayers are for the salvation of the country, are denounced by the Democracy, and have ceased to be associated therewith.

10. Those distinguished men North, who have espoused the cause of rebels, and denounced the effort of the Government to suppress the rebellion, have been sought after by the present Democracy, as worthy of a leadership. Their main success depends upon disaster to the national cause.

12. The rebels in arms hope for the success of the Democracy North as insuring their own success. The rebels in disguise hope for the success of the traitors in arms, as insuring their own success.

13. The Democracy North, and the rebel hosts, are embarked in the same enterprise, and must sink or swim together.

14. Our Union Generals, in proportion to their failures in the field, and their manifest sympathy with the rebellion, are applauded by the Democracy North, and in proportion to their success, and zeal for liberty and the Union, are they denounced by them.

15. The Democracy North, never laud a Union General while he is dealing heavy blows to the rebellion; and they never denounce a rebel General while he is doing the same to the Union.

16. The Democracy North say, had they continued in power there would have been no war. That is probably true; for they gave up the Union to be destroyed by the rebels while they were in power, and their conduct since proves that they would not have fought to have saved it.

17. The Democracy say, put them into power, and the war will cease. Why should it not? for they propose to yield to the rebels all they have ever demanded.

These plain facts are submitted by an old Democrat to those who have made themselves familiar with the so called Democratic party during the inauguration and progress of this rebellion. Observation and reflection will verify each asserted fact in every neighborhood where an active Democratic organization exists.

WHAT WEBSTER DID SAY.—The Copperheads are publishing garbled extracts from the speech made by Daniel Webester at Buffalo—one of the last speeches he ever made—on the 22nd of May, 1851. What the great New England statesman did say on that occasion, was as follows:

If the South want any concession from me they won't get it—not a hair's breadth of it. * * * I never could consent that there should be one foot of slave territory beyond what the old thirteen States had at the formation of the Union. Never, never! The man can't show his face to me and prove that I ever departed from this doctrine. He would sneak away, or slink away, or hire a mercenary Heep, that he might say what an apostate from liberty Daniel Webster has become. He knows himself to be a hypocrite and falsifier.

Neither Rebels nor Copperheads can find much consolation in those utterances.

John Morrissey, the bruiser, is a M'Clellan man, but being short, wants to bet $10,000 that Lincoln will be re-elected. Gentlemen."

Why Lincoln must be Re-elected

The executive power of the United States is now, therefore, by force practically suspended between that usurper, Jefferson Davis, and that constitutional President, Abraham Lincoln. The war is waged by the usurper to expel that constantly held in allegiance and to conquer the States which loyally adhere to him. The war is maintained on our side to suppress the usurper and to bring the insurgent States back under the authority of the constitutional President. The war is at its crisis. It is clear, therefore, that we are fighting to make Abraham Lincoln President of the whole United States, under the election of 1860, to continue until 4th of March, 1865. In voting for a President of the United States can we safely or wisely vote out the identical person whom with force and arms we are fighting into the Presidency?

You justly say, no. It would be nothing less than give up the very object of the war at the ballot box. The moral strength which makes our loyal position impregnable would pass from us, and when that strength has passed away, material forces are no longer effective, or even available. By such a proceeding we shall have agreed with the enemy and given him the victory. But in that agreement the constitution and the Union will have perished, because when it shall once been proved that a majority can by force or circumvention defeat the full accession of a constitutional chosen President thereafter, though elected by ever so large a majority, no one can hope to exercise the executive power unopposed throughout the whole country.

One of two things must follow the fatal error. Either a contest between your newly elected Compromise President, and the same usurper, in which the usurper must prevail, or else a combination between them through which the usurper or his successor, subverting your constitution and substituting his own will become president, king, or emperor of the United States without foreign aid, if he can, with foreign intervention if necessary. (That's so.) To be sure it is so, nothing is more certain than that either the United States and their constitutional President, or the so called Confederate States and their usurping President must rule within the limits of this republic. I therefore regard the a country left us. How [illegible] then to save the country from this fearful danger? (Vote Lincoln it again.) You have hit it exactly, my friends. We must vote Lincoln in again, fight him in at the same time.—If we do this, the rebellion will perish and leave no root.

If we do otherwise, we have only the alternation of acquiescence in a perpetual usurpation, or of entering on an endless succession of civil and social war. Upon these grounds, entirely irrespective of platform and candidate, I consider the recommendations of the Convention at Chicago as to subvert the republic.—Seward's Speech at Auburn.

SHARP LETTER FROM D. S. DICKINSON.—Daniel S Dickinson sent the following letter to a Union meeting at Erie, Pennsylvania, on the 13th inst:

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y. Sept. 13.

"My dear Sir: Your very kind invitation to attend and address the Union meeting in your city on the 16th would induce me to accept, were it possibly consistent, but previous engagements will not permit. The Union forces seem to be quietly massing for the contest, and just now I am more amused over the exhibitions of our opponents, than I am concerned for Union success. They held a peace convention for the peaceful, and signalized it by a pitched battle on the floor, for the gratification of the war element; they made a platform for the pacific, and placed upon it plumes, and pistols, and swords, and spears and epaulets and emblems of blood-shed for the belligerents, and yet the cause of peace, like that of its twin sister true love, does not run smooth. The platform does not fit the candidate and he cannot wear it without alterations—the alterations do not suit the party and cannot be adopted, and just now the party, the platform, the candidate, are somewhat like the hatchet, the staff and the kid in the nursery rhyme, and the disappointed fellows are crying, "pray hatchet, hack staff—staff won't beat kid—kid won't go." There seems to be but one remedy. The peace convention, by self creation is, like original sin, perpetual. Let it speedily reassemble its party of peace-makers and select a cough suitable for its cold.

Sincerely yours,
D. S. DICKINSON."

The Detroit Advertiser relates the following: We were amused the other night at the attemps of one of the unwashed, whose tongue had become a little thick from the effects of his favorite beverage, to pronounce the names of the Democratic candidates. "Hurra for McClellan and Pen'ton! I mean for McKellan and Plenton! No, that aint it; Hurra, I say, McKennel and Pelton!" The poor fellow got further from the mark every attempt until he finally gave it up in despair, exclaiming, "I'll d——n such a mixed mess. Hurra for Jeff Davis."

Here is a description, by a Cincinnati Gazette correspondent, of Gen. Sherman as he appeared on the march around Atlanta:

While I was watching to-day the endless line of troops shifting by, an officer, with a modest escort, rode up to the fence near which I was standing and dismounted. He was rather tall and slender, and his quick movements denoted good muscle added to absolute leanness, not thinness. His uniform was neither new or old, but bordering on a hazy mellowness of gloss, while the elbows and knees were a little accented from the continuous agitation of those joints.

The face was one I should never rest upon in a crowd, simply because, to my eye, there was nothing remarkable in it, save the nose, which organ was high, thin, and planted with a curve as vehement as the curl of a Malay cutlass. The face and neck were rough and covered with reddish hair, the eye light in color animated, but, though restless and bounding like a ball from one object to another, neither piercing nor brilliant; the mouth well closed, but common; the ears large; the hands and feet long and thin; the gait a little rolling, but firm and active. The dress and manner, there was not the slightest trace of pretension. He spoke rapidly, and generally with an inquisitive smile. To this ensemble I must add a hat which was the reverse of dignified or distinguished—a simple felt again, with a round crown and drooping brim and you have as fair a description of Gen. Sherman's externals as I can pen.

Seating himself on a stick of cord wood hard by the fence, he drew a bit of pencil from his pocket, and spreading a piece of note paper on his knee, he wrote with great rapidity. Long columns of troops lined the road a few yards in his front, and, beyond the road, massed in a series of spreading green fields, a whole division of infantry was waiting to take up the line of march, the blue ranks clear cut against the verdant background. Those who were near their general looked at him curiously, for in so vast an army the soldier sees his commander-in-chief but seldom. Page after page was filled by the General's nimble pencil and dispatched.

For a half hour I watched him, and the hazardous looks for and expected to. Apparently it did not lie upon his mind the weight of a feather. A mail arrived. He tore open the papers and glanced over them hastily, then chatted with some general officers near him, then rode off with characteristic suddenness, but with fresh and smiling countenance, filing down the road beside many thousand men, whose lives were in his keeping.

Singular Incident of the Draft.

Among the many singular incidents connected with the draft says the St. Louis Republican, is the following, related to us by Mr. Higbie, conductor on the St. Louis, Alton and Terre Haute railroad, occurring in Vigo county, Indiana. During the drawing for one of the sub-districts, the proceedings were watched with eager interest, by at least one person, a resident of the locality under the draft.—As the names were drawn he betrayed considerable nervousness—was particularly anxious about the price of substitutes, and thought it the duty of all veterans to re-enlist. Finally, unable longer to control his anxiety, he asked permission of Col. B. W. Thomson, Provost Marshal, to place his hand in the box, and draw forth the unfortunate prize. The Col. politely granted the request. The individual reached forth his hand, placed it in the box, and drew forth a card on which was written—his own name. It is needless to say that his curiosity was fully satisfied. If not, the salutation of "How are you conscript!" made him realize his position.

"Hurrah for M'Clellan."

This was the battle cry of the Rebels at the battle of Winchester. The New York Tribune says:

From out of the smoke that contained the rebel defence of the Opequan, hurtled the cry, Hurrah for M'Clellan!"—and from the 122nd New York, and the flanking and supporting regiments that were charged with it, went back responsive the Hurrah for Lincoln!—and with the cry went the bayonets that swept the Peace Democracy from their front, as the ballots of these brave men will in November sweep them from their rear. Vote for a man for President of the United States whose name, as a war cry and slogan of politics, fills the mouths of rebels on the field of battle. Not a true man in America will do this thing.

Ex-Gov. Dennison, recently appointed by the President Post Master General, in place of Mr. Blair, resigned, has entered upon the duties of the office. Gov. Dennison is a thorough business man, affable and courteous, and well qualified for the position.—His appointment gives general satisfaction.

Rally, Boys.

Boys, we've got em. We have beat the Copperheads in Pennsylvania on the home vote, and didn't half try.—Now for a regular Waterloo in November. Let Beaver county roll up 1,000 majority. We know she can do it, and we believe she will. To work, then. Let no man stay at home. See your neighbors bring them out, circulate the documents, make the people understand the issues of the campaign and it will all be right. We must not do like McClellan after the battle of Williamsburg and Antietam—rest. But let us imitate glorious little Phil Sheridan, who not only sent them "whirling through Winchester," but followed them up and hit, em again. We sent them whirling through Winchester, now for a Fishers Hill skaddidle. One more great charge, and and the enemy is ours and the country saved!

☞ We are requested by the chairman of the County Committee to call the attention of all who have friends in the army, to the requirements of the law regulating voting in the army. See that all are assessed, the tax of ten cents paid, and receipt forwarded in due time. The township collector can receive the tax and receipt for the same on the back of the certificate of assessment. Those who paid the tax of ten cents, or who have paid within two years (that is since Nov. 8, 1862,) are not required to again. To avoid mistakes friends at home should send these receipts immediately to their friends in the army, enclose tickets, where soldiers are detached from their command, proxies should be forwarded to them at once to enable them to send their votes home in time for the election. The proxies, envelopes, and tickets, can be had by calling on J. S. Rutan chairman of the committee. We would caution those receiving proxies not to open them, as that will prevent their voting received by the election officers. Local committees in the townships are requested to see this at once. Have all assessed, and forward proxies, tickets and receipts to all requiring them.—

The Result.

Glory enough for one day. The news from the three great States of Ohio, Indiana, and Pennsylvania, is most glorious. Like the news of Sheridan's victories in the Shenandoah valley, each successive report only enhances the value of the news. The contest in Pennsylvania was most earnest and intense. The Chicago-London-Richmond party had deserted all other points and concentrated upon the Keystone. Adopting the strategy of their friends in Reboldom, they massed their forces for an attack upon Pennsylvania, in the hopes and expectations of carrying it; but thanks to the loyal people of our good old commonwealth, the Keystone is all right. The enemy has been met and routed at every point. We have a clear majority on the home vote of 3,535, which will be increased by the soldiers to over 30,000. We have elected 16 out of 24 members being two-thirds of the Congressional delegation, and have a fair prospect of two more. We have carried both branches of the Legislature by sweeping majorities. If this is not victory, what is it?

The State of Ohio has voted even more decidedly than Pennsylvania. She sustains Lincoln, Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and Farragut, to the tune of 40,000. She has rebuked Sam Cox, Long, Pendleton and Pugh, by overwhelming votes, and has dealt Copperheadism just such a blow as Little Phil Sheridan did when he sent Early "whirling through Winchester."

But Indiana, glorious Indiana, with what meed shall we award thy praise? A State which had been considered doubtful by even the most sanguine. The state where Voorhees concocted his treason, and Dodge plotted in secret. A State where the McClellan and Pendleton party certainly expected to triumph. Oh, it was glorious! Oh, it was noble to hear the returns from that gallant State. Twenty-five thousand majority for Morton, nine congressmen, being a gain of four, and the enemy routed in every direction.

It was agreed before the election that which ever way these three states should go at the October election, they would decide the President tial election.

What chance then is there for "Lincoln tlemack?" We believe that with proper exertions, "old Abe" will sweep every Loyal state, and not leave a sin single State.

☞ Hon. W. W. Ketchum is reported to have been elected to Congress in the Luzerne district. Although the district is largely Democratic near two thousand, so great is his popularity that he came near carrying it on the home vote, and with the aid of the soldiers will be elected. It gives us great pleasure to record his election. No man in the State is more worthy of the confidence of the people, or more deserving of Congressional honors. He is a gentleman of fine natural ability, improved by study and observation, of correct moral habits, and winning manners, well calculated to win popularity and command respect in any position. He will make an able representative. The people of the State will yet learn what many already know, that Mr. Ketcham is one of the best men he is one of the most promising, men of the State.

Copperhead Lying.

It is most amusing to see the efforts made by the copperheads to figure out something of a consolatory nature from the returns. On the morning after the election they appeared very gubilant, and claimed that they had carried the State by 25 to 30,000 majority. They also had Lazear elected by an increased vote over that of 1862, and on Wednesday night they were running around, smiling and congratulating each other, and taunting unionists with their victory. Thursday morning they were a little more sober but still claimed the state by 20,000. Thursday evening they fell to 15,000. Friday morning they had come down to 10,000, and given up Lazear. Saturday they began to grow solemn and hadn't heard the full returns. Monday the vast majority had dwindled down to 122. Tuesday morning they give it up altogether, and acknowledged that we had the State by a small majority.

☞ Hon. O. H. Browning, of Illinois, formerly United States Senator, who has been stoutly claimed as for McClellan by the Copperhead papers, writes a long letter in which he expresses personal respect for McClellan, but says he cannot give him his support, because he regards his political principles, as expressed in the platform, a disgraceful compromise with the enemy.

Mr. Evan James Henry.

This gentleman, in the Star of last week and week before, wrote a letter to give his old-line Whig friends this reason for opposing Lincoln, and supporting McClellan for President. Mr. Henry was formerly a citizen of this county, but is now residing, if this the limits of the State of Camden and Amboy, the present residence of Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan, and no doubt from his more favorable position, looks down with great self-complacency upon his deluded friends in Beaver county who are going to support "Old Abe."

Well, we have read the letter carefully and attentively, to see what are the reasons which induce Mr. Evan James Henry to take a step which he deems so important, that it is necessary to publish the fact in the Beaver Star. We trust we shall not be considered discourteous if we intimate that possibly the old-line Whigs of Beaver county don't care a rush for Mr. Henry or his reasons, in fact they don't think it makes much difference whether Mr. Henry votes for McClellan or Lincoln, or votes at all for that matter! But when he proceeds to give, under the name reasons, a miserable tissue of the vilest copperhead slang, and that, too clothed in bad English, and conceived in worse taste, we think he deserves, and should receive, the castigation which he merits.

Know then, Loyal men of Beaver county, who have been old-line Whigs, that Mr. Evan James Henry formerly of this county and who voted for James Buchanan, proposes to support the nominees of the Chicago Convention—

1st: Because he loves compromise. He is so much in favor of compromise that he is willing to compromise the safety and dignity of the whole country, and we can assure him that he has already compromised his own reputation not only for loyalty but also for good common sense.

2d: Because he does not like the Republican party.

3d: Because the Republican members of Congress did not vote for the Critterden Compromise.

4th: Because the writ of Habeas Corpus has been suspended.

5th: Because the war has cost us a large amount of money; and

6th: And the true reason, which he did not give, that a few years ago he

[illegible] interest [illegible]
So great was this [illegible] according to his own story that when he arrived in Wales that business for the time was suspended, bells rang, &c.; Further that he owned large bodies of land in the Southern Confederacy and that he looked forward to the time when he would be one of the great aristocratic slave holders of the South.

We have now fairly given Mr. Henry's reasons for aiding and abetting treason, by supporting the candidates of the Chicago Convention—They are not much newer nor better than the arguments that have been urged by Southern traitors ever since the war broke out. They are not near half as decent or plausible as those contained in the letter of Benedict Arnold to the American Colonists in the time of the Revolution. It is with such arguments, and with such flimsy pretexts as these, that this man seeks to excuse his gross dereliction of duty to his country in the hour of her need. With arguments that would insult the comprehension of a school boy this blatant traitor seeks to palliate his offensive treason before his old line associates. We can tell him they spurn him, and his arguments with the contempt which they merit. The old-line Whigs of Beaver county have long since learned to keep step to the music of the Union, and they do not desire that a recreant apostate who has disgraced the party he once supported, and the county where he was born, should presume to lecture them through the columns of the Star a paper that opposed Judge Henry (the honored father of this recreant son) all his life, whose columns, year after year, teemed with the foulest abuse of Henry Clay and the old Whig party—we say they do not desire to be thus lectured upon their duty by one who hastens to pour contempt upon his native country by joining in with the treason of Vallandigham, Seymour, the Woods &c.

We have perhaps given more space to Mr. Evan James Henry than his merits would justify; we can not let him pass without calling attention to a remarkable fact in regard to his career. Mr. Justice Shallow contrived to get himself written down an ass, and there have been many since who have gloriously imitated his example. Mr. Benedict Arnold contrived that he should be written down a traitor, and he has had many followers of late. But we believe that to Evan James Henry of Orange New Jersey belongs the credit of having been the first patriot who has achieved the double distinction of writing himself down both traitor and ass at the same time. —Exp. Jeff Davis and the Presidential Campaign.

The speeches recently made by the great leaders of the rebellion in the South and in the copperheads of the North, [illegible] Georgia [illegible] damaging to the friends of the Government, that some of the more brazen faced of his friends are attempting to raise a doubt as to its authenticity. Thus far these attempts are confined to a few of the most rabid of the papers published at the North and South. But to render it more certain a copy of the speech has been published in a rebel paper in Macon, called the Telegraph, and it has been quoted by other rebel papers in the South, to show the necessity of hurrying forward reinforcements to their armies. In that speech Jeff. stated that two-thirds of the army was absent, part of them caused by sickness, and a part on furlough, but that the greater part were absent without leave—that, as they had grown weary of a war into which they had been forced to support the cause of ambitious and unprincipled demagogues, and had deserted. No wonder that some of the southern papers have expressed "profound regret" that such a speech had ever been made by Davis, and that the more venemous of the copperhead papers at the North should express doubt that such a speech was ever made.

The people of the loyal States must constantly bear in mind the confession made by the arch traitor. It is clear that he is in despair. It is strange that so cunning a politician would have ever made such damaging confessions, and that too upon the eve of the great State elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, when the traitorous copperheads were in need of all the encouragement and assistance which their southern friends and allies could give them. In making that speech he was brought face to face with the people of Georgia, whose peace, prosperity and happiness he had sacrificed, and whose pride had been humbled by his fatal policy. Those who remember the ringing and defiant tones in which he addressed the people at the commencement of the summer campaign, will see the difference in his late utterances of deep and overwhelming despondency. At the beginning he proclaimed to the people that all were united and confident of success and their victorious and then, for the people of the South were under the control of a military despotism unequaled in modern times, and the rebel armies were reinforced by unwilling conscripts. Those bold assertions were made for effect abroad.

Many persons thought when Gen. Grant said that the rebel armies were so far reduced that Davis was compelled to "rob the cradle and the grave for recruits," that he had drawn largely upon his imagination, but this speech of Davis supported by facts and high official authority, proves it to be literally true. Herein we have upon authority that cannot be disputed that the vital forces of the rebellion are exhausted, and we have the soundest basis for the belief that within a brief period it will be utterly overthrown. The Georgians are clamoring for reinforcements from Lee's army to save their State from Sherman's victorious legions, whilst the Virginians are demanding from everywhere, "because Virginia is the pillar of the Confederacy," and they "cannot depend much longer upon Lee's army which has already too great a load to bear," and further, that an accession to their forces "from some quarter, is the sore need of the hour, the hour of final trial which is near at hand."—But Davis silences both sets of agitators by telling the Virginians of Hood's weakness in Georgia, and by informing the Georgians that the inequality in numbers in Virginia is just as great as in Georgia.

Then, in view of the condition of the rebel powers—tottering to their fall, what we would ask is the duty of the people of the loyal States at the present moment? In the first place it is their duty to send fresh men continually to Grant, to Sherman and to Sheridan, and for all loyal men to unite in pushing on the columns of our noble armies until peace is conquered from our exhausted enemies. But the great and most important duty of every friend of his country is to cheer on our brave men in the field who are fighting gallantly and nobly in defence of our glorious institutions, by supporting the present Administration, by giving all our energies to secure the election of Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Johnson, and in defeating the nominees of the Chicago treasonable Convention.

Should the copperheads be permitted to obtain possession of the government, the national credit will inevitably go down. The values of every description of property would fall. With the prospects and certainty of

The Gunboat Hero.

The Copperhead press of the country strives manfully to shield their little George from the charge of having spent the time during the battle of Malvern, on the gunboat Galena.—It will not do, however. The following testimony, given with great unwillingness, as appears on its face, by M'Clellan, admits by the charge, although he strives after the most approved Copperhead fashion, to sneak himself clear of it.

Question. At what hour in the morning were you on the field at the time of the battle of Malvern Hill, and at what time did you leave?

Answer. I was on the ground very shortly after daylight, and, I presumed, occupied some four hours in riding over the position. I was again on the ground in the afternoon—I should think somewhere about two or half past two o'clock—and was over the whole position again at that time.

Question. Had the fighting commenced in the morning before you left?

Answer. [illegible] were you from the time you left the field until you returned?

Answer. I was at headquarters, near Haxall's house.

Question. Were you down the river, or on board the gunboats during any part of that day, between the time you left the field and your return to it?

Answer. I do not remember; it is possible I may have been, as my camp was directly on the river.

Question. How far was the gunboat from Haxall's.

Answer. There was generally some gunboats in the immediate vicinity of Haxall's.

Question. How far was that from where the heaviest fighting was during the day?

Answer. From Haxall's to the point where the heaviest fighting was, I suppose was two miles and a half, or three miles. There were parts of our line that were within a half a mile, probably, or less than that, of the headquarters.

Mark that! General M'Clellan, under oath, cannot remember" whether he was far off on board a gunboat while his army was bravely fighting in the field. Thinks it "possible he may have been."

To his cowardice and imbecility, which being constitutional, may not be his fault; he adds duplicity, and absolutely attempts to lie himself out of a disgraceful position. Verily, the little fellow would make an elegant President.—Phil. News.

Col. Charles Shriner.

This gentleman, formerly a resident of this county, has been elected to the State Senate from the Union county district. He is well and favorably known to many of our readers. A life-long Democrat, but true to his early teachings, when the rebellion broke out, he took the side of his country, and has since acted with the party that sustains the Government. His election as State Senator by the Union party, is a just recognition of his services. He will make his mark in the Senate, and we doubt not win his way to higher honors.

☞ The Union majority in this county at the last election was about 750 which can easily be increased to 1,000 in November. We are unable to publish the table this week. The soldiers vote is coming in, this will increase our majority on October election to about 250.

In Memoriam.

When a good man falls, it is meet that the living should "take note of his departure," but when to the noble traits of manhood are added the heroic witness of the patriot soldier, a grateful people should render tribute to his memory.

In Lieut. John D. Stokes we recognize each claim to loving and grateful remembrance. He was an honest man, a good and true husband, father and friend, a public-spirited citizen, an earnest christian and a brave soldier. His honest, simple and useful life is known to the whole community, and the record is pure and of untarnished lustre.

In an eminent degree he was diligent in business, fervent in spirit serving the Lord."

Truly has he left behind him the incense of a "good name." To crown his virtues, he was a sincere patriot, and in July 1862, volunteered in the Union army, and never were the battles of our country fought by a truer soldier.

He was appointed a Lieutenant in the 140th Reg. Pa. Vol. in which position he discharged every duty faithfully and conscientiously.

In the battle of Chancellorville the marked bravery of the "praying Lieutenant," as he was called, was observed by the commanding General, who warmly commended him in his official report.

In the battle of Gettysburg he exhibited equal heroism, and there, on the soil of his own native State, while bravely defending her honor and her homes, he received the fatal wound which cost him the loss of his good right arm, and eventually of his life.

From this shock his system never fully recovered, and for many months his sufferings were intense, though borne with christian patience and resignation. A second amputation becoming necessary, it was performed at his own request, but it proved too much for his enfeebled frame.

Disease set in, and under this accumulation of suffering, he rapidly sank, and on Sabbath morning, Sept 18th, 1864, the silver cord was loosed, and his worn body rested forever. He sleeps now—but he sleeps in Jesus.

Let us ever revere his memory, emulate his virtues, and gratefully remember his meritorious conduct as one of our country's brave defenders.

The Copperhead Conspiracies.

The Washington Chronicle has a report from Judge Holt, occupying eight columns of that paper, revealing the particulars and the evidence against the Copperhead leaders to subvert the liberties of the people by a resort to arms. Vallandigham figures conspicuously as the principle conspirator. The report discloses some extraordinary facts, &c. It will no doubt be extensively read.

Testimony of Douglas in Favor of Lincoln.

Gen. Steedman, well known as a Democrat and as a fighting General, has just visited Toledo and made a speech. He said:

"Tonight I am unexpectedly recalled to my post of duty. I had expected to go to the old Third Ward Polls to deposite my vote, and there meet many familiar faces, but I am to be disappointed.

But I must give you a little piece of history: Near the close of the campaign of 1860 I went over to Detroit to see Mr. Douglas who was there speaking, and Dennis Conklin, of this city, was with me. I did not go to hear Douglas speak for I had heard him many times; but I wished to talk with him and learn of his chances of success. As I met him, he said: "It's all over with me," and added, Steedman, if you can do anything for me to make my record right in Ohio, do it, for I want an honorable record." I assured him I would do all I could, and on his assuring me that Lincoln would be elected, I said, Judge, what kind of a man is Mr Lincoln? You know him, have practised law with him, and can tell." Mr. Douglas replied, "He is an honest, fearless man, and the country will be safe in his hands."

The prophesy of the "Little Giant" has proved correct. The country is safe in Mr Lincoln's hands. Thank God, an honest, fearless man was chosen, and will the American people be so blinder as to turn him out in the midst of his labors to crush this great rebellion? I solemnly believe that the Administration of Mr. Lincoln is ordained by God, and when the great work is accomplished, he will hear the plaudit, "Well done, good and faithful servant." Never has any one had such a task of such responsibility in the world, as President Lincoln has had for four years. Mr Polk in the little scrimage with Mexico thought he was sorely tried with the jealousies and bickerings of army officers which often seriously embarrassed him; but how little of all this we see in the great armies employed in this stupendous struggle. So successful is the President in managing all jealousies and disputes, that even the volunteers and regulars have come to act in harmony, and will vote in a body for Old Abe.

Gen Rosecrans.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, writing from St. Louis, thus summarily disposes of the absurd story that the brave and gallant General Rosecrans will vote for the traitors candidates:

"Among the Copperhead lies which have been started in this section, is one referring to Gen. Rosecrans. It is said Rosecrans will support McClellan. This lie has not been printed, but it is industriously circulated in the hotels and bar-rooms, and warmly believed by many Copperheads. It is a slander of course. Gen Rosecrans will support Lincoln, though no less a soldier and has no taste for dabbling in politics. Beside that fact, he owes nothing to McClellan, who deprived him of the honor of winning the victory at Rich Mountain and Beverly by claiming the credit as his own. All the honor claimed for McClellan in Western Virginia belonged by right to Rosecrans, and the latter has no cause to love little Mac for his efforts to gain renown on another's skill and bravery."

☞ The sale of Renan's "Life of Jesus" already exceeds one hundred and twenty thousand copies in France alone.

An Unfortunate Explanation.

The Copperheads explained Woodward's defeat last year by saying that the Government sent thirty thousand soldiers into the State to vote for Curtin. Admitting this to be true, Woodward's majority without that vote would have been over fourteen thousand. This year, as the soldiers can vote in the field, the Copperheads cannot say that any of them were brought into the State to vote. Without the soldiers vote the Copperheads, to have maintained their party strength, should have, according to their own calculation, as large a majority as last year's would have been. But this has not been the case. The result of the recent election shows us that instead of the Copperheads maintaining their strength of last year, the Union men have overcome their majority on the home vote, and secured for themselves a majority of from two thousand to five thousand. The calculation is made on the basis laid down by the Copperheads, and should furnish us no little encouragement.—Pitts. Com.

Fremont and McClellan.

There is a striking contrast between these two men, in one respect, and it tells altogether in favor of Fremont. When he accepted the Cleveland nomination, although he had no chance of election, he promptly resigned his commission in the army. But McClellan, although his friends blow terribly about the certainty of his election, hangs on to his commission, and continues to draw monthly the three hundred and odd dollars for which he renders no service. He runs as a candidate to overthrow the Government, but continues to draw the pay of the Government. He professes to believe himself sure of an election; but for fear of accidents, holds on to the pay which is certain, preferring the certainty to an uncertainty.

In case the persons who shall have received the second highest number of votes for Inspector shall not attend on the day of an election, then the person who shall have received the second highest number of votes for Judge at the next preceding election shall act as Inspector in his place; and in case the person who shall have received the highest number of votes for Inspector shall not attend, the present elected Judge shall appoint an Inspector in his place; and in case the person elected Judge shall not attend, then the Inspector who received the highest number of votes shall appoint a Judge in his place; and if any vacancy shall continue in the Board for the space of one hour after the time fixed by law for the opening of the election, the qualified voters of the township, ward, or district for which such officers shall have been elected, present at the place of election, shall elect one of their number to fill such vacancy.

It shall be the duty of Assessors respectively to attend at the place of holding every general, special or township election, during the time such election is kept open, for the purpose of giving information to the Inspectors and Judges when called on, in relation to the rights of any persons assessed by them to vote at such elections, or such other matters in relation to the assessments of voters as the said inspectors or Judge, or either of them shall from time to time require.

No person shall be permitted to vote at any election, as aforesaid, other than a white freeman of the age of twenty-one years or more, who shall have resided in this State at least one year, and in the election district where he offers to vote, at least ten days immediately preceding such election, and within two years paid a State or County Tax, which shall have been assessed at least ten days before the election. But a citizen of the United States, who has previously been a qualified voter of this State, and removed therefrom and returned, and who shall have resided in the election district and paid taxes as aforesaid, shall be entitled to vote after residing in the State six months: Provided, that the white freemen citizens of the United States, between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-two years, and having resided in the State one year, and in the election district ten days as aforesaid, shall be entitled to vote although they have not paid taxes.

No person shall be permitted to vote whose name is not contained in the list of taxable inhabitants furnished by the Commissioners, unless, first, he produce a receipt for the payment within two years, of a State or county tax, assessed agreeably to the Constitution, and gives satisfactory evidence either on his own oath or affirmation or of another, that he has paid such tax, or on failing to procure a receipt, shall make oath of the payment thereof; or second, if he claims a right to vote by being an elector between the age of twenty-one and twenty-two years, he shall depose on oath or affirmation that he has resided in the State at least one year before his application, and make such proof of the residence in the district as is required in this act; and that he does verily believe, from the account given him that he is of the age aforesaid, and gives such other evidence as is required by this act; whereupon the names of the persons so admitted to vote shall be inserted into the alphabetical list by the Inspectors, and a note made opposite thereto by writing the word "tax," if he shall be admitted to vote by reason of having paid a tax, or the word "age," if he shall be admitted on account of his age, and in either case, the reasons of such votes shall be called out by the clerks, who shall make the like notes in the list of voters kept by them.

In all cases where the name of the person claiming to vote is not found on the list furnished by the Commissioners and Assessor, or his right to vote, whether found there or not, is objected to by any qualified citizen, it shall be the duty of Inspector to examine such persons on oath as to qualification, and, if he claims to have resided within the State one year or more, his oath shall be sufficient proof thereof, but he shall make proof by at least one competent witness, who shall be a qualified elector, that he has resided within the district for more than ten days immediately preceding said election, and shall also himself swear his bona fide residence, in pursuance of his lawful calling, is within the district for the purpose of voting therein.

If any person shall present or attempt to prevent any officer of an election, or use or threaten any violence to any such officer, or shall interrupt or improperly interfere with him in the execution of his duty, or shall block up or attempt to block up the window or avenue to any window where the same may be holden, or shall riotously disturb the peace of such election, or shall use or practice any intimidation, threats, force or violence, with design to influence unduly, or overpower any elector, or to prevent him from voting, or to restrain the freedom of his choice; such person on conviction shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and be imprisoned for any time not less than twelve months; and if it shall be shown that by the Court who the trial of such offence shall be had that the person offending was not a resident of the city, ward, district or township where the said offences was committed and not entitled to vote therein, then, on conviction he shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and be imprisoned not less than six months nor more than two years.

If any person or persons shall make any bet or wager upon the result of any election within this Commonwealth, or shall offer to make any such bet or wager, either by verbal proclamation thereof, or by written or printed advertisement, challenge or invite any person or persons to make such a bet or wager, upon conviction thereof, he or they shall forfeit and pay three times the amount so bet or offered to be bet.

If any person not qualified by law qualified shall Commonwealth, or being otherwise qualified, shall vote out of his proper district, or if any person knowing the want of such qualification, shall aid or procure such persons to vote, the person or persons so offending shall, on conviction, be fined in any sum not exceed one two hundred dollars, and be imprisoned for any term not less than three nor more than twelve months.

If any person shall vote more than one election district, or otherwise fraudulently fold and deliver to the inspectors two tickets together, with the intention to vote illegally, or shall vote the same, or any person shall advise or procure another to do so, he or they so offending shall, on conviction, be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, and be imprisoned for any term not less than three nor more than twelve months.

WASHER, WRINGER and STARCHER Combined! Silver and Bronze Medals, Diplomas, Certificates, Premiums, and Testimonials, have been received from various sources, both Public and Private.

Self-Adjusting and Adjustable! The only Wringer with the Patent Cog-Wheel Regulator, for turning both rolls together and which positively prevents the rolls from breaking or twisting on the shaft. It is not only a perfect Wringer, but the Cog-wheels give it a power which renders it a most Excellent Washer pressing and separating, as it does, the dirt with the water from the clothes, leaving them dryer, whiter, and smoother than when "wrung" by hand. The water can be pressed from large and small articles, easier, quicker, and more thoroughly than by the ordinary, old-fashioned back-breaking, wrist-straining, and clothes destroying process. The Cog-wheels prevent all "wear and tear" of clothes by the friction of the rolls or breaking of stitches by twisting.

Without Cog-wheels, the whole strain of forcing the cloth through the Machine is put upon the lower roll, and the cloth is made to act in the place of Cog-wheels, to drive the upper roll, causing a much greater strain upon the lower roll than when Cog-wheels, with our Patent Regulator, are used, besides the extra strain upon the cloth. A Good Canvasser wanted in every town. Liberal inducements offered and exclusive sale guaranteed.

They have been proved to be the Soldier's never-failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS

Will be speedily removed and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines; and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.

These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly a produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE,

Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly soted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while health and strength follow as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the Bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.

Sores and Ulcers, Blotchings and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the Patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, OR SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES.

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack, and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflamation.

Every Soldier's knapsack and Seaman's chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party, or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

NOW.

Use Dr. Hurd's Preparation. Good!

The best evidences that they are is, that their firmest friends and best patrons are those who have used them longest. Dr. Wm. B. Hurd is an eminent Dentist of Brooklyn, Treasurer of the New York State Dentists' Association, and these preparations have been used in his private practice for years, and no leading citizen of Brooklyn or Williamsburg questions their excellence, while eminent Dentists of New York recommend them as the best known to the profession. Without the aid of advertising, dealers have sold them by the gross.

The Editor of the Brooklyn Daily Times says, "We are happy to know that our friend Dr. Hurd, is succeeding beyond all expectations with his MOUTH WASH and TOOTH POWDER. The great secret of his success rests with the fact that his articles are precisely what they are represented to be, as we can testify from their long use."

The well known P. T. Barnum writes "I found your TOOTH POWDER so good that my family have used it all up. We find it the best powder for the teeth we have ever used. I shall feel obliged if you will send me another supply at the Museum at your convenience, with bill."

But their cost is so small that every one may test the matter for himself.

☞ Beware of the ordinary Tooth Powders. Dr. Hurd's Tooth Pooder contains no acids, nor alkali, nor charcoal, and polishes without wearing the enamel. Use no other.

WHAT WILL DR. HURD'S REMEDIES EFFECT?

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will give young ladies that finest charm in woman—a sweet breath and pearly teeth. Try them, ladies.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will cleanse the mouth from all foul exhalations, and if used in the morning, will make the breakfast taste sweeter and the day begin more pleasantly. Hundreds of persons can testify to this. Try them, gentlemen.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder are the the best preparations in the world for curing bad breath and giving firmness and health to the gums. Hundreds of cases of Diseased Bleeding Gums, Sore Mouth, Canker, etc., have been cured by Dr. Hurd's astringent wash.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder give an additional charm to courtship, and make husbands more agreeable to their wives and wives to their husbands. They should be used by every person having

which are liable to impart a taint to the mouth

Dr. Hurd's Toothache Droops cure Toothache arising from exposed nerves, and are the best friends that parents can have in the house to save their children from torture and themselves from loss of sleep and sympathetic suffering.

Farmers and mechanics! you cannot well afford to neglect your teeth. For a trifling sume you can now get preservatives, than which Rothschild or Astor can get nothing better. Remember that Dyspepsia and Consumption of the Lungs often originate in neglect of Teeth. Send for the Treatise on Teeth, and read Dr. Fitch's observations on this subject. If too late to arrest decay in your own teeth, save your children's teeth.

NEURALGIA PLASTERS.—Dr. Hurd's Neuralgia Non-Adhesive Plasters are the most pleasant and successful remedies ever prescribed for this painful disease. The patient applies one, soon becomes drowsy, falls asleep, and awakes free from pain, and no blister or other unpleasant or injurious consequences ensue. For Earache and Nervous Headache, apply according to directions, and relief will surely follow. Nothing can be obtained equal to Dr. Hurd's Compress for Neuralgia. Try them. They are entirely a novel, curious and original preparation, and wonderfully successful. They are of two sizes, one small, for the face, price 15 cents, and the other large, for application to the body, price 37 cents. Will be mailed on receipt of price and one stamp.

WHAT ARE THE PEOPLE DOING?—The American people are intelligent enough to appreciate preparations that contribute so much to happiness of those using them, and they wont them. Every mail brings us letters, some ordering the Treatise on Teeth, some the Neuralgia Plasters, and not a few enclosing 37 cts. for the Mouth Wash, to be sent by mail; but to these we are compelled to reply that it is impossible to send a half-pint bottle by mail. The people want these Remedies. Who will supply them?

Now is the CHANCE FOR AGENTS.

Shrewd Agents can make a small fortune in carrying these articles around to families. The Dental Treasury is the neatest article that a man or woman can carry around. Send for one and see, or, better, a dozen, which we will sell, in samples, for $7. Agents supplied liberally with circulars. ☞ Now is the time to go into the business, to do good, and make a profit. We are spending thousands for the benefit of agents. New England men or women! here is something nice, and a chance to take the side of the road. Address,
